

An isometric drawing of a mechanical component, possibly a bracket or a base plate. It features a rectangular top surface, a vertical side wall, and a base. A blue dimension line is drawn on the front face, indicating a horizontal distance from the left edge to the center of a circular feature (a hole or a pin).

